PLUNKETT RAYSICH ARCHITECTS, LLP (PRA), ANNOUNCES COMPLETION OF NEW ASPIRUS HOUGHTON CLINIC

MILWAUKEE, WI - Plunkett Raysich Architects, LLP (PRA), one of Wisconsin's leading architecture and interior design firms, announced today the completion of its latest project with Aspirus Keweenaw Hospital -- a new, 18,400 sq. ft. clinic in Houghton, Michigan.

PRA partnered with Miron Construction Co., Inc. to fulfill Aspirus' goal for a new clinic that consolidates frequently requested services in one location. The patient-centered medical home design places patients first by providing clear way finding, reduced travel distances to services and close proximity of caregivers to points of care. Patients will be able to receive tests, procedures and therapy without the inconvenience of visiting multiple locations. Services include family medicine, pediatrics, orthopedics, women's health, outpatient therapies, pharmacy, lab services and diagnostic imaging.

"As an healthcare provider, Aspirus is remarkably committed to addressing and meeting the needs of the community it serves. Consolidating multiple services under one roof provides patients with a convenient, singular location to seek care, which further reinforces the organization's commitment to its patient and their community."

- Michael Scherbel, AIA, NCARB, EDAC
Partner, Plunkett Raysich Architects, LLP

The grand opening ceremony is scheduled for this Wednesday, June 18 at noon. For more information, please visit www.aspirus.org.
